

Table of Contents

Introduction to the Special Issue on Alasdair MacIntyre Dominic Burbidge & Nathan Pinkoski	i
Waldron's Challenge to Aristotelians: On the Political Relevance of Moral Realism Geoffrey Sigalet	I
The Problem of Rule in MacIntyre's Politics and Ethics in the Conflicts of Modernity Alexander Duff	23
On Ethics in the Conflicts of Modernity : MacIntyre, Strauss, and Modern Aristotelianism Stephen Salkever	43
Whose Aristotelianism? MacIntyre, NeoAristotelianism, and Morality Jonathan J. Sanford	71
Alasdair MacIntyre's Ethics of Practical Reasoning: Morality in Practice Christopher Lutz	91
Towards a Historicist Thomism: MacIntyre's Tradition-Based Rationality and Its Criterion of Truth and Falsehood Bruce McCuskey	115
Retorting Arguments, Overcoming Limitations, Aiming at Truth: A Comparison of MacIntyre and Transcendental NeoThomism Tamás Paár	141
On Running Away to The Circus Ron Beadle	171
A Radical's Critique of Rights Kelvin Knight	195